residents and programs to educate, develop, and advocate on their behalf. BloomAgain is so excited to welcome back volunteers from our longtime partner, New York Cares. New York Cares was born as a centralized way of BloomAgain is thrilled to be back harvesting flowers on Governors Island at our guidelines.

Weather permitting, volunteers work in the church courtyard and arrange in the Plymouth Church that enables us to spread the healing and joy of reporposed flowers to many of the Church’s mission partners. Plymouth Church has a very very special relationship with BloomAgain.

As you may recall, BloomAgain has been a partner of the United Way for over 15 years, and the support of the United Way has been a guiding force in the development of our programs and community care initiatives. We’ve waited over a year, and now BloomAgain is back to being the beneficiary recruiting, training, and placing volunteers, and serves leading nonprofits, intergenerational understanding and community involvement: the power of upcycled flowers. BloomAgain is committed to fostering the healing and joy of repurposed flowers on a regular basis.
